The data sets from Youth Services of Tulsa (YST), Housing Solutions (HMIS), Restore Hope, and Oklahoma Policy Institute (OPI) were de-identified and uploaded in April and May of 2022 using the Spotlight technology and services. This is a collaborative project between TPS, YST, Housing Solutions, Restore Hope, and OPI.

Tulsa Public Schools | Spotlight
Chronic Absenteeism Actionable Insight Cycle Charter

Prepared
8.8.2022

AIC Overview

AIC Description

Tulsa Public Schools (TPS) is interested in conducting a collaborative data sharing actionable insight cycle (AIC), utilizing Spotlight de-identified record linking, to better understand the causes of chronic absenteeism for students in the TPS school district. Identifying the causes of chronic absenteeism will enable the district to target interventions, efforts, and resources to the areas with the greatest potential for impact. As a first step toward these goals, TPS would like to review a small number of factors to test the effectiveness of the model and to identify potential causes of chronic absenteeism worthy of further investigation. The factors for inclusion fall into one of six categories for review:

1. Demographics
2. Home/Household
3. Medical
4. Access
5. School Environment
6. Crime/Safety

Previously, data contributors submitted data for use for a George Kaiser Family Foundation (GKFF) sponsored Spotlight AIC to look at housing insecurity among TPS students and families. The data that was previously de-identified and uploaded for that AIC would be used in combination with new data from TPS to now explore chronic absenteeism. Using previously collected data will minimize the time and burden for the data contributors for this exploratory review. The data contributor password would be shared with TPS by a data contributor on the previous project allowing the data to be linked for the purposes of the new project after approval of the charter by all the data contributors.

The data sets from Youth Services of Tulsa (YST), Housing Solutions (HMIS), Restore Hope, and Oklahoma Policy Institute (OPI) were de-identified and uploaded in April and May of 2022 using the Spotlight technology and services. Spotlight employs a federated data architecture that never shares sensitive, personally identifiable information (PII) and uses modern cryptographic methods to analyze the data. The result is that sensitive data never leaves the security of its owners, and analytics are performed without anyone outside of that organization seeing that organization's information. The new data set being submitted by TPS for this AIC will undergo the same de-identification process before upload.

AIC Questions

One primary question will be the focus of this AIC: What are the potential causes of chronic absenteeism for TPS students?

This is a collaborative project between TPS, YST, Housing Solutions, Restore Hope, and OPI. The following partners will be asked to review and approve the charter via email as well as approve any changes that may be directly or indirectly related to their contributions to the AIC.

AIC Timeline

The timeline below is an initial estimate and is subject to change. AIC partners will be notified of any significant changes to the timeline.

AIC Deliverables

Phase 1: Assess	————————
Phase 2: Discover		————————
Phase 3: Transfer (TPS dataset)			——
Phase 4: Review			————————
Phase 5: Sustain				——

The deliverable for this project will be a report identifying the possible causes of chronic absenteeism for TPS students within the 6 reviewed categories.
1. Demographics
2. Home/Household
3. Medical
4. Access
5. School Environment
6. Crime/Safety

AIC Data Security

Asemio will follow our Spotlight security practices throughout the AIC. This AIC is classified as Tier 2: Sensitive Data according to Asemio's Data Classification Schemes, which is in alignment with the 2004 HMIS Data and Technical Standards Final Notice and The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act. Any changes to Asemio's recommended practices associated with data security will be noted in this section of the AIC.

Distribution of Results

Aggregated and de-identified project results will be shared with AIC participants and maintained in a password-protected site for up to one year. At any time, AIC partners can request to remove access to the results and Asemio will decommission the site. Only values of 10 or greater will be shared. Anything less than 10 will be suppressed according to Asemio's Data Suppression Protocols. Data suppression can reduce the amount of information able to be shared, reducing access to potential insights but is necessary to ensure security and privacy throughout the entirety of an AIC.

This is a collaborative project for TPS, Housing Solutions, YST, Restore Hope, and OPI. Those agencies and members and Asemio will have access to information about the agencies' participation and detailed results of the AIC. TPS, Housing Solutions, YST, Restore Hope, and OPI give permission for Asemio, the partners, and the funder to discuss the AIC description, partner participation, high-level takeaways, and actions resulting from the AIC with other organizations and communities to educate them on the tool and possible use cases for the technology. Detailed results of the AIC will not be shared without partner and sponsor permission and will be documented in this section of the Charter.

About this Charter

This Charter is a working agreement for the TPS Spotlight Prototype. The Charter is intended to help partners align on and document the components of the AIC. It will be shared and approved via email by data contributors and partners according to what is stated in the AIC partners section of the Charter.

Revision process

Any modifications made to this agreement by the AIC partners will be tracked in the change log below and redistributed to all project partners for an opportunity to accept or reject the proposed changes.

JUSTICE LINK

A service hub for legal system-involved Tulsans

JusticeLink is a voluntary community resource for individuals with open Tulsa County court cases or under supervision.

We help Tulsans navigate the court system and successfully exit the legal system by connecting them to essential services like benefits, phones, and transportation so that they can successfully complete court requirements.

Key System Outcomes

Reduced Jail and Prison Recidivism

- Fewer technical violations filed, warrants issued, and apps to accelerate/revoke
- Reduced arrests and jail days
- Better case disposition

Improved Economic Mobility

- More individuals engaged in services
- Greater access and utilization of supports
- Reduced time between jail release and service engagement

Improved System Collaboration

- Better referrals and trust between participating service providers
- System-wide data driven continuous improvement

How to Get Connected with JusticeLink

JusticeLink services are available at any of these locations in downtown Tulsa:

JusticeLink Community Hub
211 W Archer Street

Tulsa County Courthouse
500 S Denver Avenue

What is JusticeLink?

JusticeLink is a collaborative, multi-agency network serving individuals who have been released from jail and those who are at risk of or already have an open warrant for their arrest due to failure to comply with a court order, condition of their release, or other court/probation requirement. It provides Tulsans with low-barrier services and referrals, working to improve coordination between stakeholders and prevent acceleration within the system.

What services does JusticeLink provide?

JusticeLink offers voluntary no-cost services to help Tulsans successfully navigate the criminal legal system:

- Personalized court navigation around court appearances, fines, fees, and court conditions
- One-stop hub for clients to access empowering, self-stabilizing supports such as employment, education, case management, housing, family services, mental health, substance abuse, and public benefits, as well as referrals to high-quality provider partners
- Community location with "front doors" in other locations (e.g., courthouse)

Individuals receive support from a Court Navigator who assists in resolving open criminal legal cases (e.g., ensuring appearance at court dates, understanding conditions of release, and facilitating payment of fees and fines) and a Resource Navigator who can help identify and connect with community resources to meet basic needs.

Participation in JusticeLink is fully voluntary and not a condition of any court program. Participants may stop accessing services at any point with no impact to their legal case(s).

JusticeLink's Partners

JusticeLink is a collaborative of public agencies, community members, organizers, advocates, and practitioners. Our work is the result of nearly a year of conversations, with key Tulsa stakeholders, including:

- Tulsa County Public Defender's Office
- Tulsa County Court Services
